FTC to Host Virtual Meeting with Corporate Counsel in Trinidad and Tobago

20th October 2022

The Fair Trading Commission (“the Commission”) will be hosting a virtual meeting with Corporate Counsel under the theme of “Competition Law in Challenging Times: Updates and Considerations for Corporate Counsel” on Thursday 27th October 2022.

Through this interactive session, the Commission intends to highlight the challenges and opportunities presented to the organisation since the full proclamation of the Fair Trading Act and how these lessons learnt can assist Corporate Counsel to ensure and promote better compliance with competition law. Presentations will be delivered by staff of the Commission and will among other things, encapsulate the work of the Commission. In addition, a presentation is expected to be delivered by a representative from the Caribbean Corporate Governance Institute.

The virtual Meeting is intended to serve as an opportunity to solicit the views, challenges or concerns of the participants with respect to competition law in their practices, any issues relative to interacting with the Commission or concerning the overall local business environment.

Any inquiries about this upcoming virtual session should be directed to the Executive Director of the Commission, Mr. Bevan Narinesingh using the contact information below.
